Sir:

In response to the Office Action of July 6, 2009, a response being due with a Petition to Revive an Unintentionally Abandoned Application, please consider the following remarks:

REMARKS

In the Official Action, a Requirement for Election was made with respect to the various species of the generic invention. The Examiner determined that the species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked so as to form a general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1. The Examiner has specifically stated that the claims are deemed to correspond to the following species: Species I, namely, many different organ solvents as recited in Claim 3; Species II, namely, many different fatty acids as recited in Claim 6; Species III, namely, many different soothing agents as recited in Claim 8; Species IV, namely, many different anti-inflammatory agents as recited in Claim 9; Species V, namely, many different thickening agents as recited in Claim 10; Species VI, namely, many different insect-repellant products as recited in Claim 11; and Species VII, namely, many different delay formula as recited in Claim 14. Claim 1 was deemed to be generic.
